

EASTER WEEKEND GREETINGS AND UPDATE

Posted on April 9, 2020 by Andrew Brown

Dear All,

As in earlier weeks I hope this finds all of you as well as can be expected under the circumstances. I think I've now spoken to by telephone and/or been properly in contact at least once with everyone who wants to be contacted. In one way or another all of you have been passing on your love and best wishes to one and all. I'm delighted to be able to pass them on. I had hoped to be able to record for you the Good Friday meditation we hold each year but, alas, this has not proved possible. However, below is a link to a pdf of that meditation should you wish to read it through yourselves tomorrow:

I have also written another weekly meditation for the Easter Weekend which, should you be minded, you can read at the following link:

For the good of all let's cancel our subscription to the resurrection—A reflection for the Easter Weekend of 2020

Personal circumstances connected with Susanna's daughter may now mean that I am less effective in my ringing round of you all than I have been up until now but I will continue to do my best to be in touch with you all in turn and as regularly as I am able to manage. Please also continue to feel able to ring me if you need to talk about whatsoever.

As always, Susanna and I send you our love and best wishes,

Andrew
