Our student ministry: the Freethinkers

As I hope you all know by now, we have recently appointed a member of the congregation, Susanna Hartland (who graduated from Cambridge University in last academic year after studying theology), to run and develop a student ministry for us here in Cambridge.

Given that we are a church in one of the most famous and influential university cities in England it seems both sensible and well worthwhile to attempt to start and sustain a Unitarian student ministry connected with this congregation and it has been given the highly appropriate name of 'The Freethinkers'. The funding for this full-time, one year post, is being shared 50/50 with the General Assembly of Unitarian and Free Christians and we are very grateful for their support in this initiative. Naturally, we are also very grateful to Susanna for all her creativity and hard work in getting this excellent project up and running.

If you are interested in knowing more about The Freethinkers then feel free to contact Susanna Hartland, the minister, or by exploring the following web links:

About our church

This church belongs to a liberal Christian tradition which welcomes the loving, critical and enquiring spirit. It is founded upon an 'open trust' which imposes no doctrinal tests upon its minister or members. We meet in the spirit which is exemplified in the life and utterances of Jesus, for the worship of God and the service of humankind.
